MORE

SERVICES

LEVERAGED ACCOUNTS

Leveraged accounts allow investors to multiply their investment capacity by using funds borrowed from the broker. This means that, with a relatively initial investment small, traders can control a much larger position in the market.

LEVERAGED ACCOUNTS

Suppose a trader has 1,000 USD in his account and uses a leverage of 10:1. This would allow you to control a 10,000 USD position in the market.

If the value of the investment increases by 5%, the profit would be 500 USD, instead of the 50 USD that would have been obtained without leverage leverage from $100 usd-maximum loss: 10%-example: 500 usd gives 50,000 usd-withdrawal fee 3%

STI PORTFOLIO

Description: Create a fixed-income portfolio, the best alternative to CDs.
